In the last few weeks of the winter, you'll be hard pressed to find a stretch of sand that's not occupied by a beach umbrella or by hundreds of sunbathers lazing by the shore in shades. It is recognized as a sailing capital, in part because of its favorable winds, but also because it's the site of the largest sailing event in Latin America, International Sailing Week.

In addition to its natural gifts, the coast is an established tourist trap that has become one of the most frequented destinations on the Basque coast. With all this movement, it's hard to believe that wild beaches still exist here, untouched by any of the tourism that constantly flows in and out of the area. Few places in Basque Country can boast such well-developed infrastructure, and this is largely due to the fact that the coast is right in between the two most densely populated cities in the country—Bilbao de Gernika and San Sebastián. It's a fortunate mix of the two.

medios de la naturaleza virgen y varias playas desiertas, se trata de lo que existen cerca de aquí: cascadas, senderos en rutas con vistas de la Gran Maraca y la del Niño.

Una excelente opción para escapar del bullicio es alojarse en el núcleo de las playas, es la Playa de Monete, a la que a veces se puede llegar después de una caminata de cuatro horas, a pesar que en las horas bajas paraíso, de las comunidades de la Isla, Monete es la más grande y está lejos de ser un sitio turístico, sus casas (destruidas por el viento), que de alguna manera viven aisladas del centro urbano de la Isla, permiten de forma más profunda las relaciones y hábitos del pasado que aún se ven a pesar de tener ciertas ventajas, sus calles son anchas y el clima de ruralidad envuelve al visitante, ya que la naturaleza es salvaje, quien desea disfrutar del mar y disfrutar del paisaje de Monete, puede acercarse de las comunidades tradicionales, puede hospedarse en una de las más bellas y originales posadas, la Posada Caracoleros, que tiene acogedoras habitaciones con vista al mar y una decoración original. En su restaurante se pueden disfrutar platos de cocina internacional en un ambiente ambiente a la usanza de los años.

Otra playa solitaria digna de mencionarse es la de Cabeza Larga, a la que a veces se puede acceder por una caminata de tierra que atraviesa la isla en dirección al lado este y que una vez puede reconocerse en vehículos 4x4. Fue en esas aguas que se refugiaron birds of islands and birds of the island that make up this natural archipelago.

Beautiful Beaches

There are six beaches along the island. The most frequented face the tourists and are characterized by their calm and clear waters, which are excellent for swimming, when you need to stay off and recharge your batteries, there are plenty of restaurants, bars and hotels in the area.

None of the best beaches is Cabeza Larga, a small and remote cove. During high season, it is best to leave the car behind and just walk along these beaches, where you can best enjoy the gentle sea breezes. Playa de la Isla is in the historic district of the city. With 10 small number of shops, bars and restaurants, a good time is only a short walk away. It is also a great place to enjoy the spectacular sunsets.

To best enjoy everything the island has to offer, rent a bicycle and follow the bike path that runs through almost every beach there. In addition to renting bikes, the Posadas Caracoleros is also offers rooms in the most beautiful area of the island.

Another beach, which is also in the most frequented region of the island, is the place for water sport enthusiasts—especially windsurfers and kitesurfers. Those who are looking to sail can also count on excellent infrastructure, as the island is one of the top spots in the country for that sport.

A great for divers and swimmers is the Las Cabezas beach—just 200 feet from the sea cliffs. This is the best place to enjoy a day of snorkeling or diving, when visitors can come close to the water edge of the reef. The water is always great temperature, soft lighting and sea horses.

Adventure Island

For those who wish to make a beach a little deeper and prefer to access more remote corners, the island offers various excursions to beautiful waterfalls, trails through pristine forests and diverse beaches. It is estimated that there are about 400 waterfalls on the island, although the best known are Agua Blanca and La Cascada del Niño.

Playa de Monete is a great getaway from all the bustle of the city, center that still allows you to enjoy the beach. You can only reach it after a four-hour hike by water, using power waterfalls of the island's best beaches. Monete is the largest of the 16 communities of the island—but it hasn't lost its authenticity. This remote aspect of Caracas (the total population is called San Felipe) managers to remain separate from the urban center of the island and preserve its habits and traditions family.

La naturaleza de Ihabela mantiene sus características primitivas.

En primer y tercer lugar, más cercanía, y en el lado de que a finales del siglo ha cambiado en cuanto a su paisaje, la naturaleza que rodea la Playa de Cañonera permanece con las mismas características primitivas de cuando fue descubierta en el siglo XVI: manglares, playas, cascadas y otros senderos que se acaban dentro de una zona protegida de Reserva ecológica.

Más allá, visitó la zona de un sendero formado por senderos y senderos, entre otros, y muchos senderos, para disfrutar de las vistas, con una que ofrece la más bella y encantadora de las vistas de Isla Mujeres. ☑

The island has also had other benefits. An unspoiled beach and the rich landscape. Reaching into the few visitors who make it this far, nature seems to give time for those who wish to enjoy the unspoiled and beautiful scenery. Another has to do with the way the island was discovered and the original form of the island. It has a long history that can be seen in all the old ruins and the island. The island's natural beauty offers various recreational activities that can be enjoyed by tourists.

Cañonera is another scenic beach worth visiting. It is only accessible by a dirt road that cuts the island toward the sea and can only be traveled using all-terrain vehicles. The rough waters here are excellent for surfing. It was in these turbulent waters that some of the most famous pirates and corsairs in history found refuge, and nearly 400 years later, almost nothing in the landscape has changed. The wilderness that surrounds Playa de Cañonera is well preserved and offers a handful of ruins, maintains the same character it had when it was discovered in the 16th century.
